Student Ambassador Recruitment 2023 - Sign Up!

Who are our student ambassadors?

The School of Physical and Chemical Sciences' Student Ambassadors represent and assist the School at recruitment and outreach events on-campus, in schools, and online throughout the year. Work opportunities are advertised on an ad-hoc basis and student ambassadors can choose to sign up depending on their academic schedule. Ambassadors are paid at a rate of £13.67/hour worked.

All students are encouraged to apply! We are particularly interested in receiving applications from students on BSc or MSci Physics with Data Science as we do not currently have any ambassadors representing this programme

What is required of me if I'm selected?

You will need to attend the induction and complete training modules on QMPlus. You will then be able to work all year round at different events. Examples include open days, school assemblies, physics and chemistry taster days, summer schools, creating website and social media content and more!

How do I sign up?

Complete the online application form:
