5 Key Areas of QMplus

COMMUNICATION CHANNELS

MODULE CONTENT

LECTURE RECORDINGS

SUBMITTING ASSIGNMENTS

GRADES AND FEEDBACK

1. Communication Channels

- QMplus is one of the main ways for teaching staff to communicate with students, so please regularly check module announcements & forums

- For video conferencing:

- Office hours with lecturers/tutors
- Communicate with classmates for group work via MS Teams
- Student societies, university jobs etc... use Teams

2. Module content

- Each module will be different, depending on what the module leader has chosen to include, but most will be presented in a similar format and will include material such as;
  - Module outlines/module information block
  - Lecture slides
  - Tools for communicating such as discussion forums
  - Tabs & topics: videos, PowerPoint slides, other resources and materials
  - Online coursework such (e.g., assignments, quizzes)

3. Lecture Recordings – Q-Review

What is Q-Review?

- Our system for recording live teaching in lecture theatres with a capacity of 40+ students.
- Link to the recordings will be available on the QMplus module area.
- NB: Not all lecture theatre are Q-Review enabled.

Student Stats – Q-Review Use

80%

HSS students stated that they use Q-Review recordings occasionally or frequently

80%

of those HSS students said they use the captions

10%

HSS students use lecture recordings for accessibility purposes

63%

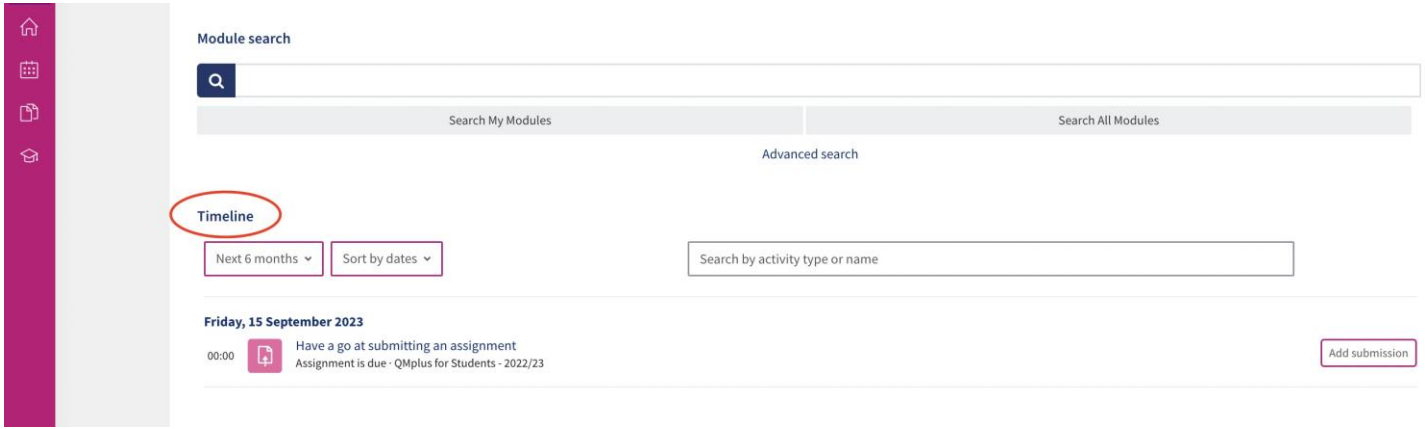
Further understanding material/terminology

67%

students use captions for notetaking purposes

4. Submitting assignments

- Timeline feature (found on your Dashboard) allows you to view all your upcoming deadlines



4. Submitting assignments

- Turnitin generates a similarity report and score (if enabled)
- Schools may choose to allow you to check your Turnitin score for your draft so you can check prior to submitting the assignments
  - A high similarity score will not be immediately interpreted as a case of plagiarism; submissions will be read by subject experts

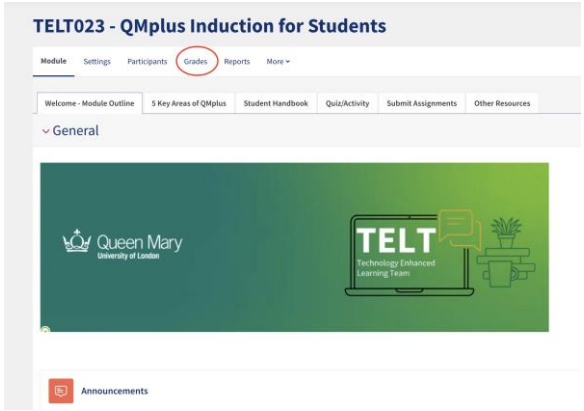
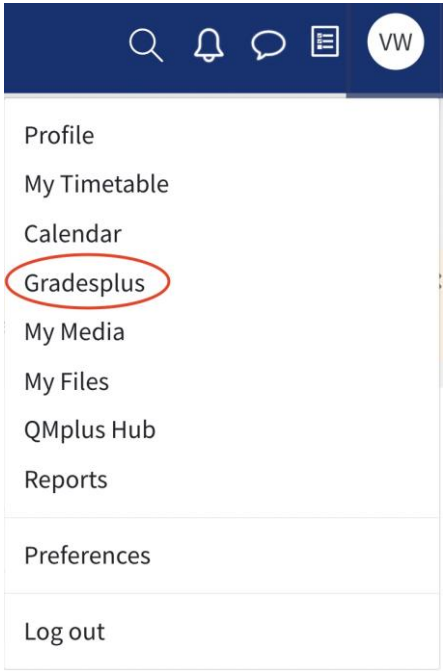
5. Grades & Feedback

Access Grades via:

1. "Grades" Section in Navigation Panel of Module
2. Gradesplus - assignments will only appear here when grades have been released





5. Grades & Feedback

Access Feedback via:

- Comment section of assignment submission area may have feedback available to students
- Some markers leave comments in the Turnitin Feedback studio:
  - If available, click pencil icon in assignment submission area to review in-line feedback on Turnitin
