

Module Title: Directing Fiction

Module Code: FLM5204

Credit Value: 15

Level: 5

Pre-requisite modules:

Content Description

Directing Fiction involves developing a practical understanding of a range of approaches to film direction stemming from both mainstream and alternative film practices. The module will enable students to develop their creative skills within a context where their practice work is related to film studies theory. A number of approaches to directing will be covered and students will work in a group, preparing a production then making this production based on their specified conception of film direction.